ABSTRACT

The Constitution of India gives the powers between Legislative, Executive and Judiciary. These three pillars are the foundation of the Constitution of India as well as Democracy. People are always very respectful to Indian Judiciary, and Indian Judiciary always protect the Fundamental Rights of People as well as Indian Judiciary stand as a safe guard protector of the Constitution of India. For this Judiciary branch every person must study the LAW. This book Law as a Career by Tanuj Kalia, is clearing most of doubts of every law beginners. In short who wants to join law first of all must read this book. This book will be very useful for Law students. The books is journey of Law courses in India and foreign also.

SUMMARY OF BOOK :

All in one, the book is a complete package which is providing information about Law courses in India and foreign. It is divided in VIII chapter. Chronological names are (I) Introduction (II) CLAT and other law school entrance test (III) Life in a Law School (IV) Internships, CVs and Jobs (V) LL.M. from abroad (VI) Major career options in Law (VII) Other career options (VIII) Conclusion and parting advice.

The book is giving inspiration for Law students. The books clears the different types of courses of Law Graduation and Post graduation in India and foreign also. In the chapter of Introduction author clear that Law as a career option and not just like Black and White, and overall view of Legal education in India, how to choose law school and salary packages etc. in the second chapter, author encourage the students from giving information on CLAT, English language, General knowledge, Legal Aptitude, Logical reasoning etc. in the third chapter, author indicating the Law schools ranks, rush and academics information. In the fourth chapter author clears the concept of internships, CVs and Legal jobs in India as well as foreign. In the chapter V author put the information regarding Post Graduation in Law in Foreign country, it is universal concept of author which is much appreciated. Chapter VI clear the major Law firms, PSUs, Judicial services, Legal academia, NGO etc. in the chapter VII author clear the second part of Law courses i.e. Tax practice, civil registration practice and legal journalism and legal publishing covers in this chapter. Chapter VIII is gate for legal education. It is not conclusion but it is starter as a law career. Here author cover women in Law, Legal ethics etc.

CRITICAL EVOLUTION OF BOOK :

In the chapter I author should specify the course structure including compulsory 30 subject which is prescribed by the Bar council of India, which is mention in the Legal Education Rules, 2009. Author also must touch the Inspection Manual 2009, which is clear the infrastructure and staff requirements for the Law schools in India as per the strength of the students as well as division of the Law schools.

Author also have to cover-up Indian Government / Grant-in-Aid / Private Law schools which is affiliated from Government / private universities, because these is the major portion which produce law products in India, big role of these law schools for judiciary. Also these law schools are covers the village students which is interested for law courses nearby.

Author may cover-up the relation between the Bar and Bench, which is very important relationship to know every law students as well as every citizen of India.

RESEARCHER'S View :

When researcher received the copy of the book and start the study. It looks very information prima facie. It be great source for new student of Law. The book “Law as a Career” is giving the legitimate information about Law courses like LL.B. (Three year), LL.B. (5 Year integrated) and LL.M. (Post Graduation) of Law subjects. Law courses is connected with the Constitutional branch i.e. Indian Judiciary, which is the part of our Democracy. Also we can say that Law faculty is the protector of our Fundamental Rights as well as it is our safeguard of the Constitution of India. Author deeply studied A to Z and 1 to 100 of Law courses, there is no any corner which is forgotten by author. The young author is also from Law faculty and writes on Law course, means he is from same faculty. Author also gave information of Law courses in India as well as foreign county also. Author covers The Bar Council of India, which agency regulates the legal education in India. From my conclusion it is very useful books for Law students, parents, advocates, jurist as well as legal peoples also. In Gujarat there are some funny sentences uses for Advocate i.e. Vakil Na Thavay, Vakil To Khota Kam Kare, Vakil Ni Kamani Nakami, Vakilat To Navara Loko Kare and often people says Vakil to Vaklo also, but if who are thinks this faculty like this, they must be read once this book. I am wishing that in future I will translate this book in the Gujarati language with the permission of author.
